Expert organization DEKRA will for the first time be presenting its range of cybersecurity solutions at the it-sa trade show in Nuremberg, Germany, from October 9 to 11, 2018. The DEKRA 360°CyberSafe method helps businesses to guard against IT threats and data theft. it-sa is Europe's biggest trade show for IT security.

Demand for cybersecurity is rising all the time. In a survey conducted by forsa on behalf of DEKRA, nine out of ten employees said that IT infrastructure security was considered important or very important at their employers. According to a study by the German Federal Office for Information Security (BSI), roughly 70% of all companies and institutions in Germany fell victim to cyber attacks in 2016 and 2017.

DEKRA has systematically expanded its range of cybersecurity and data protection solutions. The goal is to help companies to make themselves "cybersafe" in all areas – from organization and processes to personnel and products. As an expert organization, DEKRA enjoys a wealth of knowhow and experience in a diverse range of fields.
