The DEKRA subsidiary AT4 wireless in Málaga/Spain has changed its name to DEKRA as of April 1, 2017. The Product Testing and Certification business unit now offers its full range and the global network of test laboratories and services under the DEKRA brand. As a leading company in the testing and certification of mobile communications and wireless technologies, AT4 wireless was acquired by DEKRA after over 25 years of continuous growth.

“Combining services relating to the ‘Internet of Things’ and ‘Networked Driving’ within DEKRA gives us great potential for international growth,” say Fernando Hardasmal, Managing Director of the former AT4 wireless S.A.U., which is now known as DEKRA Testing & Certification S.A.U. “As part of DEKRA, we are investing in new facilities, test services and R&D activities focusing on new wireless technologies.”

DEKRA’s global Product Testing & Certification business unit supports customers from various industries at all stages of their value chain: From ICT and mobile communications to larger, strongly diversified markets, such as the automotive industry, retail, health care and consumer goods, in which connectivity is playing a growing role. Bert Zoetbrood, Head of DEKRA’s Product Testing & Certification business unit: “Security and connectivity are inextricably linked. We offer our customers around the world integrated services for innovative products at every step of the development process until the new product is ready for the market.”

About DEKRA

DEKRA has been active in the field of safety for 90 years. Founded in 1925 in Berlin as Deutscher Kraftfahrzeug-Überwachungs-Verein e.V., it is today one of the world’s leading expert organizations. DEKRA SE is a subsidiary of DEKRA e.V. and manages the Group’s operating business. In 2016, DEKRA generated sales totalling approximately 2.9 billion Euros. The company currently employs more than 38,000 people in more than 50 countries on all five continents. With qualified and independent expert services, they work for safety on the road, at work and at home. These services range from vehicle inspection and expert appraisals to claims services, industrial and building inspections, safety consultancy, testing and certification of products and systems, as well as training courses and temporary work. The vision for the company’s 100th birthday in 2025 is that DEKRA will be the global partner for a safe world.
